Lesson 1
Kinds of Sentences: Declarative and Interrogative

A group of words that expresses a complete thought is a sentence. All sentences begin with a capital letter. A declarative sentence makes a statement. It ends with a period. An interrogative sentence asks a question. It ends with a question mark.

Florida summers are very hot. (declarative)
Are summers in Florida very hot? (interrogative)

Exercise 1 Write in the blank dec. (declarative) if the sentence makes a statement or int. (interrogative) if the sentence asks a question.

int. Can you help me with my algebra?

_____ 1. I’m going swimming today.
_____ 2. Is the president addressing the nation on television tonight?

38. Bring a Number 2 pencil to class
39. Watch how I do this
40. This food is delicious
Lesson 3

Sentence Fragments

Every sentence must have a subject and a predicate to express a complete thought. The subject part of a sentence names who or what the sentence is about. The predicate part tells what the subject does or has. It can also describe what the subject is or is like.

SUBJECT       PREDICATE
My friend Joel will play in the volleyball tournament.

A sentence fragment is a group of words that lacks a subject, a predicate, or both. A fragment does not express a complete thought.

Will play in the volleyball tournament. (lacks a subject)
My friend Joel. (lacks a predicate)
Without a doubt. (lacks both a subject and a predicate)
Without a doubt, my friend Joel will play in the volleyball tournament. (expresses a complete thought)

Exercise 1 Write sentence in the blank before each word group that expresses a complete thought. Write fragment next to each word group that does not express a complete thought.

fragment  Wore her warmest sweater.

1. sentence  The survivors of the earthquake showed great courage.
2. fragment  Caused problems everywhere.
3. sentence  Every Sunday their family went hiking.

Lesson 4
Subjects and Predicates: Simple and Complete

Both a subject and a predicate may consist of more than one word. The complete subject includes all of the words in the subject part of a sentence. The complete predicate includes all of the words in the predicate part of a sentence.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>COMPLETE SUBJECT</th>
<th>COMPLETE PREDICATE</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>My younger brother likes alphabet soup for lunch.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The simple subject is the main word or group of words in the complete subject. The simple predicate is the main word or group of words in the complete predicate. The simple predicate is always a verb, a word or words that express an action or a state of being.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>SIMPLE SUBJECT</th>
<th>SIMPLE PREDICATE</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>My younger brother likes alphabet soup for lunch.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Exercise 1 Draw a vertical line between the complete subject and the complete predicate.

Lesson 6
Simple and Compound Sentences

A simple sentence has one subject and one predicate. The subject and the predicate in a simple sentence may be simple or compound.

SUBJECT       PREDICATE
Oscar       fed the dog.
Oscar and Cathy fed and groomed the dog.

A compound sentence contains two or more simple sentences joined by a comma and a coordinating conjunction (or, nor, and, either...or, neither...nor, but) or by a semicolon.

Oscar fed the dog, and he groomed him.
Oscar’s dog likes to run; Cathy’s dog prefers to sleep.

Two or more simple sentences joined incorrectly result in a run-on sentence.
Correct a run-on sentence by writing separate sentences, by adding a comma and a conjunction, or by adding a semicolon.

Patti practiced every day for the recital she played flawlessly. (run-on)
Patti practiced every day for the recital. She played flawlessly. (separated)
Patti practiced every day for the recital, and she played flawlessly. (joined by a comma and a conjunction)

Nouns: Compounds, Plurals, and Possessives

Compound nouns are nouns that are made up of two or more words. Compound nouns can be one word, like the word football, or more than one word, like rocking chair. Other compound nouns have two or more words that are joined by hyphens, such as hand-me-down.

To form the plural of most compound nouns written as one word, add -s or -es. To form the plural of compound nouns that are hyphenated or written as more than one word, make the most important part of the noun plural.

ONE WORD
snowmobiles, basebals, grandfathers

HYPHENATED
fathers-in-law baby-sitters runners-up

MORE THAN ONE WORD
home runs music boxes quarter horses surgeons general

A possessive noun names who or what has something. Possessive nouns can be common or proper nouns, singular or plural, compound or not. To form the possessive of all singular nouns and of plural nouns not ending in -s, add an apostrophe and -s. To form the possessive of plural nouns already ending in -s, add only an apostrophe.

boy’s boss’s Luis’s women’s puppies’

Exercise 1 Write in the blank the plural form of each compound noun.

Lesson 11
Distinguishing Plurals, Possessives, and Contractions

A contraction is a word made by combining two words into one and leaving out one or more letters from the two words. An apostrophe shows where the letters have been omitted.

\text{can + not = can’t} \quad \text{singer + is = singer’s}

Most plural and possessive nouns and certain contractions end with the letter \(-s\). As a result, they sound alike, but their spellings and meanings are different.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Plural Noun</th>
<th>The singers wrote the song.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Plural Possessive Noun</td>
<td>The singers’ song is enjoyable.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Singular Possessive Noun</td>
<td>We heard the singer’s song.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Contraction</td>
<td>The singer’s the songwriter.</td>
</tr>

Writing Link  Imagine that you can have any horse you want. Use action verbs to describe the horse you would choose.
Lesson 14
Verbs: Transitive and Intransitive

Depending on its use in a particular sentence, an action verb can be either transitive or intransitive. A transitive verb is followed by a word or words—called the direct object—that answer the question what? or whom? An intransitive verb is an action verb that does not have a direct object.

Transitive: The pilot landed the antique airplane. (Airplane is the direct object that answers the question landed what? after the verb landed.)

Intransitive: The pilot landed carefully. (*There is no direct object answering the question landed what? or whom? )

Exercise 1 Draw two lines under each action verb. Circle each direct object. Write T in the blank if the verb is transitive or I if the verb is intransitive.

1. The pilot started the airplane.
   - T

   1. Wilbur and Orville Wright built the first successful airplane. T
   2. They built their machine in Ohio. T

Writing Link  Would you like to become a pilot someday? Write a paragraph explaining why or why not. Use transitive and intransitive verbs.
Lesson 15
Verbs with Indirect Objects

Both a direct object and an indirect object may follow an action verb in a sentence. An indirect object tells to whom or for whom the verb’s action is done.

Kara sold Matt the bicycle. (Matt tells to whom Kara sold the bicycle. Bicycle is the direct object.)

Indirect objects follow certain rules. First, indirect objects are found only in sentences that have direct objects. Second, an indirect object always comes before a direct object. Finally, the prepositions to or for can be inserted before the indirect object; its position in the sentence can be changed, and the sentence will still make sense.

Levi threw Jake the football. (Jake is the indirect object before the direct object, football.)
Levi threw the football to Jake. (The meaning of the sentence is unchanged. Jake was an indirect object in the first example.)

▶ Exercise 1 Write DO above each direct object and IO above each indirect object. Not every sentence has an indirect object.

1. Yuri threw Karen the ball.
2. The jeweler sold the couple two lovely rings.
3. Roberto refunded Rayna the cost of the unused ticket.
4. Mr. Kenja gave Miki and Vance permission for their project.

36. The deer leapt the creek with ease.
37. Philip conceded Kamil the argument.
38. Mrs. Jones brought Henry his homework.
Lesson 16
Linking Verbs and Predicate Words

A linking verb joins the subject of a sentence with a noun or adjective in the predicate that identifies or describes the subject. Be in all its forms (am, is, are, was, were) is the most common linking verb. Other linking verbs include appear, become, feel, grow, look, seem, smell, sound, taste, and turn.

Corinne was captain. (The linking verb was links captain to the subject, Corinne.)

Exercise 1 Draw two lines under each verb. Place a check in the blank next to each sentence that contains a linking verb.

✔ The bird is red.

1. The grass became brown and dry during the drought.

17. Today the summer skies seem extremely blue.
18. The old candy bar tasted stale.
19. The novel soon turned dull.
20. The movie ended too quickly.

The words that follow a linking verb and identify or describe the subject are called subject complements. The two kinds of subject complements are predicate nouns and predicate adjectives. A predicate noun follows a linking verb and renames the subject. A predicate adjective follows a linking verb and describes the subject. Predicate nouns and predicate adjectives may be compound.

Corinne was a team captain and a friend. (compound predicate noun)
She sounded tired but hopeful. (compound predicate adjective)

Exercise 2 Write PN above each predicate noun and PA above each predicate adjective.

25. The small acorn became a giant oak.

Writing Link Write a paragraph describing what you might see on a winter walk in the woods. Use linking verbs and predicate words.
Lesson 17
Present and Past Tenses

Tense refers to the form of the verb that shows the time of the action.

The present tense refers to an action that is happening now, to an action that happens regularly, or to a situation that is generally true. The present tense and the base form of a verb are the same when used with all subjects except singular nouns or he, she, or it. In these cases -s or -es is added to the verb.

I smell the fresh bread. (happening now)
The coach calls practice daily. (happens regularly, generally true)

The past tense refers to an action that has already occurred. The past tense of many verbs is formed by adding -ed to the base form of the verb.

I smelled the bread earlier.
Isabel called the coach.

► Exercise 1 Draw two lines under each verb. Write its tense, present or past, in the blank.

Lesson 18
Main Verbs and Helping Verbs

All verbs have four principal parts that are used to form the tenses.

PRINCIPAL PARTS OF THE VERB TALK

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>BASE FORM</th>
<th>PRESENT PARTICIPLE</th>
<th>PAST</th>
<th>PAST PARTICIPLE</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>talk</td>
<td>talking</td>
<td>talked</td>
<td>talked</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Other tenses are formed by combining the present participle and the past participle with helping verbs. A helping verb helps the main verb tell about an action or make a statement. One or more helping verbs followed by a main verb is called a verb phrase.

They are talking to Sheila about the game. (Are is the helping verb, and talking is the main verb. Together they form a verb phrase.)

Be, have, and do are the most common helping verbs. Forms of the helping verb be are am, is, and are in the present and was and were in the past. These forms combine with the present participle of the main verb. The helping verb that combines with the past participle of a verb is have. Its forms include have and has in the present and had in the past.

Exercise 1 Draw two lines under the correct helping verb in parentheses and two lines under the participle. Write pres. part. or past part. in the blank to indicate whether the participle is present or past.

1. Ricardo and Craig (are, have) arriving tomorrow.

Lesson 19
Verb Forms: Present Progressive and Past Progressive

The present tense of a verb describes an action that occurs repeatedly. The present progressive form of a verb refers to an action that is continuing in the present. The present participle of the main verb and the helping verb am, are, or is combine to make up the present progressive form.

PRESENT PROGRESSIVE FORM

<table>

<tr>
<td>He, she or it is painting.</td>
<td>They are painting.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The past progressive form of a verb refers to an action that was continuing at some point in the past. The present participle of the main verb and the helping verb was or were combine to make up the past progressive form.

PAST PROGRESSIVE FORM

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>SINGULAR</th>
<th>PLURAL</th>

35. She guessed about the time.

36. Sonia hummed that tune during art class.
Lesson 20
Perfect Tenses: Present and Past

The present perfect tense of a verb names an action that happened at some time in the past. It also names an action that happened in the past and is still occurring. The past participle of the main verb and the helping verb have or has make up the present perfect tense.

PRESENT PERFECT TENSE

Lesson 21
Expressing Future Time

The future tense of a verb is formed by adding the helping verb will before the main verb. When the subject is I or we, the helping verb shall is sometimes used.

Our big tournament will begin next week.

Time words such as tomorrow, next year, and later are used to refer specifically to future time to show that an action has yet to occur. They are used with the present tense of the verb.

Our big tournament starts next week.

The present progressive form can also be used with time words to express future actions.

Our big tournament is starting next week.

The future perfect tense of a verb refers to an action that will be completed before another future action begins. The future perfect tense is formed by inserting will have or shall have before the past participle of the verb.

By that time, our big tournament will have started.

Exercise 1 Draw two lines under each verb or verb phrase. In the blank write the tense of the verb: present, pres. prog. (present progressive), future, or fut. perf. (future perfect).

---

fut. perf.

Lesson 22
Active and Passive Voices

A sentence is in the active voice when the subject performs the action of the verb.
Neil Armstrong landed the Apollo lunar module on the moon in 1969.

A sentence is in the passive voice when the subject receives the action of the verb. The verb in a passive-voice sentence consists of a form of be and the past participle. Often a phrase beginning with by follows a verb in a passive-voice sentence.

The Apollo lunar module was landed on the moon in 1969 by Neil Armstrong. (was and the past participle of land followed by a phrase beginning with by)

The active voice is stronger and emphasizes the performer. Use the passive voice when you want to emphasize the receiver of the action or de-emphasize the performer. Also, use the passive voice if you do not know who the performer is.

The moon was reached in 1969. (focuses on the event)
The spacecraft was landed. (You do not want to state who landed it.)

► Exercise 1 Write in the blank whether the sentence is in the active or passive voice. Draw a line under the receiver of the action.

passive The heavens were studied by ancient astronomers.

1. A solar eclipse was predicted by Thales of Miletus in 585 B.C.

4. According to the Greek astronomer Ptolemy, the sun and the planets circled Earth once a day.

5. In 1543, a new theory was suggested by a Polish astronomer, Copernicus.

6. In this theory, Earth and other planets orbited the sun.

7. The use of Copernicus’s theory was forbidden by religious leaders until 1757.
8. However, persons were convinced about Copernicus’s theory by the discoveries of other astronomers.

9. The law of universal gravitation was discovered by Sir Isaac Newton.

10. The Copernican theory gained support after this discovery.

11. Uranus was found by Sir William Herschel in 1781.

12. Pluto was discovered by Clyde William Tombaugh in 1930.

13. The closest planet to the sun, Mercury, orbits the sun in eighty-eight Earth days.

14. Venus is called “the Morning Star” by many persons.

16. It sent back data about conditions on and near Venus.

17. The surface of Venus has been mapped by succeeding American space probes.

18. We call Mars “the Red Planet.”

19. This planet was named by ancient Romans after the red god of war in Roman mythology.

20. Limonite, a brick-colored mineral, gives Mars its red color.

21. Mars orbits the sun in about 687 Earth days.

22. Mars was observed by the U.S. spacecraft Mariner IV in 1965.

Lesson 26
Pronouns and Antecedents

The noun or group of words that a pronoun refers to is called its antecedent. Be sure every pronoun agrees with its antecedent in number (singular or plural) and gender. The gender of a noun or pronoun may be masculine, feminine, or neuter (referring to things).

Puccini and Verdi wrote many great operas. They wrote them in Italian. (The plural pronoun they refers to Puccini and Verdi. The plural pronoun them refers to operas.)

Mary sent a letter to Aunt Fran. Mary sent it to her. (The singular pronoun it refers to letter. The singular pronoun her refers to Aunt Fran.)

Exercise 1 Draw an arrow from each italicized pronoun in the second sentence to its antecedent in the first sentence.

Norway has many mountains and fiords. It has little farmland.

1. Norway is a small country in northern Europe. It hosted the 1994 Winter Olympics.

2. Many people knew little about Norway before the Olympics. They learned more about it by watching the Olympics on television.

3. Much of Norway is covered by mountains. They make transportation difficult.

4. The Norwegians invented the sport of skiing. They often ski daily during the long winter.

5. Thousands of skiers participate in the annual Birkebeiner ski race. Many people consider it the world’s toughest ski race.

6. Unlike the United States, Norway is a kingdom. It also has a prime minister.

7. Queen Sonja and King Haakon reign in Norway. They have little power but serve as symbols of the country.

19. A famous Viking is Leif Ericsson. Many historians believe him to be the first European to land in North America.

20. Vikings left traces in Newfoundland and Canada. They called this area Vinland.
Lesson 27
Using Pronouns Correctly

Subject pronouns are used in compound subjects, and object pronouns are used in compound objects.

Deon and Lisa played chess. He and she played chess. (He and she form the compound subject.)

The game of chess interests Deon and Lisa. The game interests him and her. (Him and her form the compound object.)

Whenever the subject pronoun I or the object pronoun me is part of the compound subject or object, it should come last.

Deon and I went to a chess tournament. (not I and Deon)

Sometimes a noun and pronoun are used together for emphasis. The form of the pronoun depends on the function of the noun in the sentence.

We chess players study chess intently. (Players is the subject, so the subject pronoun we is used.)

That book is the most interesting to us chess players. (Chess players is the object of the preposition to, so the object pronoun us is used.)

Some sentences make incomplete comparisons. The forms of the pronoun can affect the meaning of such sentences. In any incomplete comparison, use the pronoun that would be correct if the comparison were complete.

Deon was more interested in chess than she (was).
Deon was more interested in chess than (he was interested in) her.

In formal writing, use a subject pronoun after a linking verb.

Deon’s best friend is he.

Lesson 28
Pronouns: Possessive and Indefinite

A possessive pronoun shows who or what has something. Possessive pronouns replace possessive nouns. They may come before a noun or they may stand alone.

His bike was stolen. The bike was his.

USED BEFORE NOUNS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Singular:</th>
<th>mine, yours, his, hers, its</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Plural:</td>
<td>ours, yours, theirs</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

An indefinite pronoun does not refer to a particular person, place, or thing. The indefinite pronouns all, any, most, none, and some can be singular or plural depending on the phrase that follows. When an indefinite pronoun is used as the subject of a sentence, the verb must agree with it in number.

Everyone attends the weekly assemblies. (singular)
Several look forward to them very much. (plural)
Most of the assembly is interesting to the students. (singular)
Most of the assemblies are in the afternoon. (plural)

5. The skunk defends itself by spraying a foul-smelling liquid.
6. This seems riper than the others.
Unit 5: Adjectives and Adverbs

Lesson 31
Adjectives

An adjective modifies, or describes, a noun or a pronoun. An adjective provides information about the size, shape, color, texture, feeling, sound, smell, number, or condition of a noun or a pronoun.

Brown wrens sometimes build nests above front doors.

Most adjectives come before the words they modify. A predicate adjective follows a linking verb and modifies the noun or pronoun that is the subject of the sentence.

The clerks in this store are polite and friendly.

The present participle and past participle forms of verbs may be used as adjectives and predicate adjectives.

A barking dog kept me awake all night. (present participle)
The crowd was excited. (past participle)

Exercise 1 Underline each adjective. Draw an arrow to the noun or pronoun it modifies.

Common ants are fascinating insects.

1. Ants are social insects that live in organized colonies.
2. Female ants are either queen ants or worker ants.
3. Male ants mate with young queens and live very short lives.
4. Queens live several years and lay numerous broods of eggs.
5. Ants are also extremely strong and energetic.
6. They are industrious and build structured nests.
7. To do this, they use two sets of powerful jaws that allow them to chew, to dig, and to carry large objects.
8. Ant nests often have several rooms with connecting tunnels.

9. Communication is essential in such complex societies.

10. Ants have interesting ways to share information.

11. Elbowed antennae are extremely active and sensitive; they serve as sense organs for touch and smell.

12. When two ants meet, they rely on antennae to determine if they are nestmates or enemies.

13. If they discover they are true nestmates, they touch mouths and pass on stored chemicals and stored food.

14. Various chemicals give ants full “reports” on colony conditions.

15. Received information then directs behaviors of individual ants.

Exercise 2 Complete each sentence by writing an adjective in the blank. You may use a present or past participle form of a verb in some sentences.

An ______ excited______ swarm of bees buzzed around the ______ lumbering______ bear.

1. In the spring we see many ______________________ insects in our yards.

2. The honey bee is a very ______________________ insect.

3. In springtime honey bees visit the ______________________ blossoms of plants.

4. They make ______________________ honey from the flowers’ nectar.

5. Butterflies, like honey bees, help pollinate ______________________ flowers.

6. Some butterflies, such as the monarch, migrate ______________________ distances from the northern United States or Canada to California, Florida, or Mexico.

7. A butterfly’s ______________________ wings delight people of all ages.

8. Another ______________________ insect with pretty wings is the ladybug.

9. Ladybugs are ______________________ because of their bright color and spots.

10. Ladybugs are useful to farmers because they control ______________________ pests.
Lesson 32
Articles and Proper Adjectives

The words a, an, and the make up a special group of adjectives called articles. A and an are called indefinite articles because they refer to one of a general group of people, places, things, or ideas. Use a before words beginning with a consonant sound, and use an before words beginning with a vowel sound.

a film  a bicycle  a union  an omelet  an honor

The is called a definite article because it identifies specific people, places, things, or ideas.

The river had flooded the nearby fields.

Exercise 1 Write in the blank the indefinite article that comes before each word or words.

Lesson 33
Comparative and Superlative Adjectives

The comparative form of an adjective compares two things or people. The superlative form of an adjective compares more than two things or people. For most adjectives of one syllable and some of two syllables, -er and -est are added to form the comparative and superlative.

Comparative: Brazil is bigger than Venezuela.
Superlative: Brazil is the biggest country in South America.

For most adjectives of two or more syllables, the comparative or superlative is formed by adding more or most before the adjective. Never use more or most with adjectives that already end with -er or -est.

Comparative: Marco is more adventurous than Kuan.
Superlative: Pete is the most adventurous of all.

Some adjectives have irregular comparative forms.

16. We’ll never make it to Denver in this beat-up car.
17. Those boots leak because the rubber has cracked.
18. That was the pony she rode during the fair.
Lesson 35
Adverbs

An adverb modifies, or describes, a verb, an adjective, or another adverb. When modifying an adjective or another adverb, an adverb usually comes before the word. When modifying a verb, an adverb can occupy different positions in the sentence.

The woman walked slowly. (modifies a verb)

Extremely cold weather can be dangerous. (modifies an adjective)

It snows very often in November. (modifies another adverb)

An adverb may tell when, where, or how about a verb. It may also tell to what extent a quality exists. This kind of adverb is called an intensifier. Very, too, rather, quite, and almost are intensifiers.

Many adverbs are formed by adding -ly to adjectives. However, not all words that end in -ly are adverbs. The words kindly, friendly, lively, and lonely are usually adjectives. Similarly, not all adverbs end in -ly. Some that do not are afterward, sometimes, later, often, soon, here, there, everywhere, fast, hard, long, slow, and straight.

Exercise 1 Draw an arrow from each adverb to the word it modifies. In the blank, write V if the adverb modifies a verb, adj. if it modifies an adjective, or adv. if it modifies another adverb. A sentence may have more than one adverb.

V, adj. Lena and Trent thoroughly enjoyed the truly vigorous hike.

_____ 1. When hiking in the American West, you must proceed carefully.

_____ 2. People walking in rocky areas sometimes come across rattlesnakes.

_____ 3. Some people are quite afraid of snakes.

_____ 4. If not provoked, rattlesnakes are not very dangerous.

_____ 5. All rattlesnakes are poisonous, but they bite people relatively rarely.

_____ 6. People often find rattlesnakes in dry, rocky areas.

_____ 7. They are particularly numerous in the Southwest.

_____ 8. However, they also exist in the eastern part of the country.
9. Surprisingly, the largest rattler is native to the East.

10. The eastern diamondback rattlesnake lives there.

11. Practically all eastern diamondbacks live on the southeast coast, from North Carolina to Florida.

12. This largest of rattlers can grow to almost eight feet!

13. Rattlesnakes have adapted well to their environment.

14. A snake’s body temperature depends entirely on the temperature of the air around it.

15. If the temperature drops quickly, a rattlesnake can die.

16. Snakes will often lie in the sun to get warm.

Exercise 2 Complete each sentence by writing an adverb in the blank.

Emilio and Zina will meet us at the zoo _______ later.

1. Rattlers, like all snakes, are ____________________ misunderstood.

2. Snakes are often killed because ____________ many people have a fear of them.

3. Some people _________________ assume that snakes are evil.

10. _________________ try to chase or pick up a snake.

11. If you see a rattlesnake, walk _________________ from it.

12. _________________, carry a first-aid kit.
Lesson 36
Comparative and Superlative Adverbs

The comparative form of an adverb compares two actions. The superlative form of an adverb compares more than two actions. Long adverbs and adverbs ending in -ly require the use of more or most. Shorter adverbs need -er or -est as an ending.

Comparative:
- She records the experiment more accurately than he does.
- Alicia studied harder than Rex did.

Superlative:
- She recorded the experiment most accurately of all the students.
- Alicia studied hardest of all.

Some important adverbs have irregular comparative and superlative forms.

9. No one was running around _____________________________ than Lisa! (frantically)
10. My brother plays that blues song _____________________________ of all. (well)
Lesson 37
Using Adverbs and Adjectives

Adverbs and adjectives are often confused, especially when they appear after verbs. A predicate adjective follows a linking verb. An adverb follows an action verb.

The teachers in our school are enthusiastic. (adjective describing teachers)
Teachers in our school must work hard. (adverb describing work)

The words bad, badly, good, and well can be confusing. Bad and good are adjectives. They are used after linking verbs. Badly and well are adverbs. They describe action verbs. When used after a linking verb to describe a person’s health, well is an adjective.

ADJECTIVE ADVERB
This movie is bad. The actors performed badly.
The popcorn is good. The seats recline well.
I don’t feel very well.

People also confuse real and really, sure and surely, and most and almost. Real, sure, and most are adjectives. Really, surely, and almost are adverbs.

ADJECTIVE ADVERB
Skating is a real workout. Skating is really fun.
A skater needs sure feet. To go fast is surely the most fun.
Most skaters are careful. I almost never fall.

Exercise 1 Underline the word in parentheses that best completes the sentence.

Jordan’s (sure, surely) delivery guaranteed the success of his speech.

1. Josh had (most, almost) completed the lifesaving class at the YMCA.
2. We didn’t do too (bad, badly), all things considered.
3. Learning bird songs and calls is a (good, well) way to identify them.
4. My geometry test is today, and I don’t feel very (well, good).
5. Janelle was (real, really) glad to hear from them.
6. Always walk (quiet, quietly) in the woods in case you come upon some deer.
7. (Sure, Surely), he isn’t serious about dropping out of the Camera Club!
8. All the staff members felt this issue of the paper turned out fairly (good, well).
9. (Most, Almost) guitars have six strings, but some have twelve.

10. Making the yearbook staff is a (real, really) accomplishment.

11. That group of kids is so (loud, loudly) I can barely hear the film.

12. The coach said the team played just (good, well) enough to win.

18. Pete was (most, almost) finished with lunch when I arrived.

19. The plan is (possible, possibly) to carry out, although it will be quite risky.

20. I (sure, surely) will not go there with you!

21. The twelfth of November last year was (real, really) chilly.

22. Luis tried to look at his chances (realistic, realistically).

23. Frankly, this Chinese food doesn’t taste (good, well) to me.

24. The judges felt his singing was (more beautiful, more beautifully) than Ellen’s.

25. They’re not (sure, surely) they’ll be able to participate in the math contest.

26. The sound quality at that concert was very (bad, badly).

27. My dad looked (real, really) happy when we gave him his present.

28. Marianne was (extreme, extremely) surprised when she heard who had called her.

► Writing Link  Write a short paragraph about your favorite extracurricular activity. Include several adjectives and adverbs.
Lesson 38
Avoiding Double Negatives

The adverb not is a negative word. Negative words express the idea of “no.” Not often appears in a shortened form as part of a contraction.

CONTRACTIONS WITH NOT

is not = isn’t  will not = won’t  do not = don’t  had not = hadn’t was not = wasn’t  cannot = can’t  did not = didn’t  would not = wouldn’t were not = weren’t  could not = couldn’t  have not = haven’t  should not = shouldn’t

Other negative words are listed below. Each negative word has several opposites. These are affirmative words, or words that show the idea of “yes.”

NEGATIVE AFFIRMATIVE NEGATIVE AFFIRMATIVE never ever, always no one everyone, someone nobody anybody, somebody nothing something, anything
none one, all, some, any nowhere somewhere, anywhere

Be careful to avoid using two negative words together in the same sentence. This is called a double negative. Correct a double negative by removing one of the negative words or by replacing one with an affirmative word.

Incorrect: That isn’t no beautiful sofa.
Correct: That isn’t a beautiful sofa. That is no beautiful sofa.

Exercise 1 Place a check next to the sentence in each pair that is correct.

A prepositional phrase is a group of words that begins with a preposition and ends with a noun or pronoun called the object of the preposition.

The pitcher in the rear is filled with sweetened tea.

Exercise 2 Draw one line under each prepositional phrase. Draw a second line under each object of the preposition.

Sadie Jenkins hired Heloise and me to clean the large shed behind her house.

1. After the discovery of many antiques, we suggested that she sell the items.

2. Three porcelain dolls and a wooden chess set of Renaissance design were among our best finds.

3. Mrs. Jenkins smiled at us and said that along with our pay we could have twenty percent of the money we generated.

4. Diving into our task with new enthusiasm, we searched through every box and container inside the shed.

5. When Dad contacted two antique dealers and told them about the dozens of items, they agreed to come to the house and make an offer.
Lesson 40
Pronouns as Objects of Prepositions

When a pronoun is the object of a preposition, use an object pronoun and not a subject pronoun.

The burly man sang a lullaby to Karen. The burly man sang a lullaby to her.

Sometimes a preposition will have a compound object consisting of a noun and a pronoun. Remember to use an object pronoun in a compound object.

I sold tickets to Carrie and Seana. I sold tickets to Carrie and her. Alberto agreed with Willie and me.

The subject pronoun who is never the object of a preposition; only the object pronoun whom can be an object.

The woman to whom I spoke is from Colombia. Of whom did you ask directions?

Exercise 1 Underline the pronoun that best completes each sentence.

For (who, whom) are these party favors intended?

1. Community service is important to Simon and (we, us).
2. Did you give instructions to Waldo and (she, her)?
3. Is this carnation plant intended for (he, him)?
4. For Lee Chan and (he, him), did the lesson present much difficulty?
5. The decision was easy for Michael and (he, him).

Writing Link Write a paragraph about an interesting place you have visited. Include pronouns as objects of prepositions.
Lesson 41
Prepositional Phrases as Adjectives and Adverbs

A prepositional phrase that modifies or describes a noun or pronoun is an adjective phrase. Notice that, unlike most adjectives, an adjective phrase usually comes after the word it modifies.

I noticed a man with bushy eyebrows.

A prepositional phrase that modifies a verb, an adjective, or another adverb is an adverb phrase. An adverb phrase tells when, where, or how an action occurs.

The hikers rested beside a brook. (describes a verb)
The vista was breathtaking from this view. (describes an adjective)
The quartet performed well for such an early hour. (describes an adverb)

Exercise 1 Underline each prepositional phrase. Draw an arrow to the word it modifies.

Movies began in the late 1800s. People experimented with devices to make pictures move.

1. One of these experimenters was Thomas A. Edison.

2. George Eastman, a pioneer in photographic equipment, helped Edison invent the kinetoscope.

3. Motion pictures were projected for the first time on December 28, 1895.

4. Early filmmakers photographed almost anything near the camera.

5. Language differences presented no problem because movies, at that time, were silent.

6. Titles, or printed dialogue, were inserted between scenes.

7. Soon audiences became bored, and attendance at the movies declined.

8. One development that saved movies from extinction was that they began to tell stories.

9. One such story, The Great Train Robbery, led to the establishment of nickelodeons.
10. A nickelodeon was an early movie theater with a five-cent admission charge.

11. Around 1927, a sound system called Movietone was developed in the studios.

12. These first talkies were awkward and tense compared to the silent films.

13. Many silent film stars had voices unsuited to sound films.

14. New techniques in photography and editing were tried during this time.

15. The most successful movies of the 1930s and 1940s were musicals, gangster films, and horror shows.

Exercise 2 Draw one line under each adjective phrase. Draw two lines under each adverb phrase.

Within the last few years, the quality of home entertainment has changed dramatically.

1. With modern advancements, high-quality sound no longer requires huge speakers.
2. Some of the most advanced systems use only three-inch speakers.
3. “Home theater” sound systems place speakers behind the listeners.
4. With stunning realism, these rear speakers enhance the recordings almost to the level of a live performance.
5. It is difficult to imagine the improvement beyond stereo; you must hear it for yourself.
6. Video images with greater resolution and clarity are also reaching new heights of quality.
7. Until the last two to three years, projection televisions, with their huge screens, were inferior to sets with cathode ray tubes.
8. Manufacturers have responded to consumer demands by building television sets with greater brightness and resolution.
9. As digital recording spreads throughout the industry, one can expect virtually perfect sound reproduction even after years of use; old-style records deteriorate with every play.
10. Superb production within the confines of our homes is a reality within reach of even modest budgets.
Lesson 42
Conjunctions: Coordinating and Correlative

A coordinating conjunction is a word that connects parts of a sentence. And, but, or, for, and nor are coordinating conjunctions.

Allison and Rosita have lived in Texas.
Do you remember if Tony plays soccer or sings in the choir?
Geraldo chose spaghetti, but we ate lasagna.

To strengthen the relationship between words or groups of words, use a correlative conjunction. Correlative conjunctions are pairs of words that connect words or phrases in a sentence. Correlative conjunctions include both . . . and, either . . . or, neither . . . nor, and not only . . . but also.

The NFL has franchises in both Green Bay and San Diego.

When a compound subject is joined by the conjunction and, it takes a plural verb.
Wilma and Helga are class officers.

When a compound subject is joined by or or nor, the verb agrees with the nearest part of the subject.
Neither the boys nor Mr. Ferguson is afraid of the rapids.

Exercise 1 Circle each conjunction. Write in the blank coord. if it is a coordinating conjunction and correl. if it is a correlative conjunction.

coord. Rugby and cricket are examples of English sports.

1. The soil is rich, and the climate is moderate.

15. Neither Ishmael nor the other scouts (prefers, prefer) hiking to horseback riding.
Lesson 43
Conjunctive Adverbs and Interjections

A conjunctive adverb may be used instead of a conjunction in a compound sentence. It is usually preceded by a semicolon and followed by a comma.

Many Asians use chopsticks; however, some use forks.

USE CONJUNCTIVE ADVERBS
- To replace and also, besides, furthermore, moreover
- To replace but however, nevertheless, still
- To state a result consequently, therefore, so, thus
- To state equality equally, likewise, similarly

► Exercise 1 Write in each blank a conjunctive adverb that logically links the two simple sentences.

There is a gazebo in her backyard; __________, there is a garden.

1. The old museum was drafty and rundown; ________________, the exhibits were boring and outdated.
2. The team uniforms faded in the wash; ________________, the school colors are now mint green and pale yellow.

15. Bird watching is very educational; ______________, it is great fun.

An interjection is a word or group of words used to express strong feeling or to attract attention. Use interjections sparingly in your writing because overuse spoils their effectiveness.

COMMON INTERJECTIONS

aha  come on  ha  oh  ouch  what  yes
alas  gee  hey  oh, no  phew  whoops awesome  good grief  hooray  oops  well  wow

An interjection that expresses very strong feeling may stand alone. An interjection that expresses milder feeling remains a part of the sentence.

The exams are finally over. Hooray! Oh my, I’ve lost my key again.

> Exercise 2  Write in the blank an interjection that makes sense.

Ha, you can’t catch me!

Complex Sentences and Subordinate Clauses

A complex sentence contains a main clause and one or more subordinate clauses. A main clause can stand alone as a sentence. A subordinate clause has a subject and a predicate, but it is not a complete sentence. It depends on the main clause to complete its meaning.

MAIN CLAUSE
We were sailing on the lake
We didn't know
This is the place

SUBORDINATE CLAUSE
when the thunderstorm hit.
that the paint was wet.
where I dropped my pen.

Lesson 46
Adjective Clauses

When a subordinate clause modifies a noun or a pronoun, it is called an adjective clause. Often, an adjective clause begins with a relative pronoun. An adjective clause can also begin with where or when.

Ms. Parker, who is from Colorado, is coming for dinner. She has written a book that tells the history of the Rocky Mountains.

RELATIVE PRONUNGS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>that</th>
<th>who</th>
<th>whose</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>which</td>
<td>whom</td>
<td>whomever</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

► Exercise 1 Draw one line under each adjective clause and two lines under each word that introduces an adjective clause.

Lesson 47
Essential and Nonessential Clauses

Adjective clauses may be either essential or nonessential. Essential clauses are necessary to make the meaning of a sentence clear. A clause beginning with that is essential. Nonessential clauses add interesting information but are not necessary for the meaning of a sentence. A clause beginning with which is usually nonessential. Use commas to set off nonessential clauses from the rest of the sentence.

The sweater that you knitted for me fits perfectly. (essential clause)
Dr. Adams, whose train arrives today, is a well-known writer. (nonessential clause)

▶ Exercise 1 Underline each adjective clause. Write e (essential) or non. (nonessential) in the blank to identify the type of clause. Add commas as needed.

- non.

  Wingless Flight, which I saw yesterday, depicted space travel.

  _____ 1. The explorers whom I most admire are astronauts.

  _____ 2. One man who made space travel possible was Robert Goddard.

26. The Venera probes landed on Venus which has a crushing atmosphere and took pictures before being destroyed.
Lesson 48
Adverb Clauses

An adverb clause is a subordinate clause that gives information about the verb in the main clause of the sentence. It tells how, when, where, why, or under what conditions the action occurs. An adverb clause can also modify an adjective or another adverb.

Because she was so exhausted, Sheila could not keep her eyes open. (The adverb clause tells why Sheila could not keep her eyes open.)

Ed’s family lived in Atlanta after he was born. (The adverb clause tells when Ed’s family lived in Atlanta.)

Notice that when an adverb clause begins a sentence, a comma is used. However, a comma is not needed before an adverb clause that completes a sentence. Adverb clauses are introduced by subordinating conjunctions. These conjunctions tell you that a clause is subordinate and cannot stand alone as a sentence.

COMMON SUBORDINATING CONJUNCTIONS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>after</th>
<th>before</th>
<th>though</th>
<th>whenever</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>although</td>
<td>if</td>
<td>unless</td>
<td>where</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>as</td>
<td>since</td>
<td>until</td>
<td>whereas</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>because</td>
<td>than</td>
<td>when</td>
<td>wherever</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Exercise 1 Underline each adverb clause. Circle the subordinating conjunction.

- My little sister rides her bicycle more carefully since she fell and scraped her knee.

1. Although Tricia works hard, she always welcomes extra projects.

2. Whenever my aunt is in town, she takes me to lunch.

13. Move the furniture wherever it looks best.

14. Although the dinner was a success, the cook created a mess!

15. I would like that video when you have finished with it.
Noun clauses are subordinate clauses that act as nouns.

Actors must have good memories. (noun)
Whoever acts on stage must have a good memory. (noun clause)

The clause in the second sentence above replaces the noun in the first sentence. Noun clauses can be used in the same way as nouns—as subject, direct object, object of a preposition, and predicate noun.

Whoever runs for office needs much money. (subject)
Candidates know that the game of politics is expensive. (direct object)
This is the candidate about whom I wrote. (object of a preposition)
Election day is when the results are known. (predicate noun)

WORDS THAT INTRODUCE NOUN CLAUSES

Lesson 50
Participles and Participial Phrases

A present participle is formed by adding -ing to a verb. A past participle is usually formed by adding -ed to a verb. Sometimes a participle acts as the main verb in a verb phrase. As a verb, the present participle is used with forms of the helping verb to be, and the past participle is used with forms of the helping verb to have. A participle can also act as an adjective to describe, or modify, a noun or a pronoun.

The robin was singing in the tree. (present participle as a main verb)
Our cat stared at the singing robin. (present participle as an adjective)
Tammy has tossed the water balloon. (past participle as a main verb)
The tossed water balloon hit the sidewalk. (past participle as an adjective)

Exercise 1 Underline each participle. Write in the blank pres. if it is a present participle and past if it is a past participle.

pres. The running guard caught the pass from Troy.

1. The nervous bird was pecking at the girl.
2. A printout of the results has been taped to the door.

19. I felt sorry for the beached baby whale.

20. What were you thinking when you put the melted caramels in the freezer?

A participial phrase includes a participle and all the other words that complete its meaning. It is used as an adjective and can appear before or after the word it modifies. Place the phrase as close as possible to the modified word to avoid unclear meaning. A participial phrase placed at the beginning of a sentence is set off with a comma. Other participial phrases may or may not need commas, depending on whether or not they are essential to the meaning of the sentence.

The girl throwing the water balloon is Tammy DiGiovanni.
Tammy, throwing the water balloon, aimed at the target.
Running quickly after Tammy, I threw the balloon back.
Tammy, scared of getting wet, hid behind a bush.

174 Grammar and Language Workbook, Grade 8
Lesson 51
Gerunds and Gerund Phrases

In addition to being used as an adjective (as in participles and participial phrases), a verb form ending in -ing may also serve as a noun. A gerund is a verb form that ends in -ing and is used as a noun. It can be the subject of a sentence, the direct object, or the object of a preposition.

Flying is a skill birds must learn. (subject)
Young birds practice flying. (direct object)
They can escape from dangers by flying. (object of a preposition)

A gerund phrase is a group of words that includes a gerund and other words that complete its meaning.

Flying in a storm takes practice. (subject)
Birds learn flying in high winds at a young age. (direct object)
Many birds owe their survival to flying away from enemies. (object of a preposition)

Exercise 1 Circle each gerund. Underline each gerund phrase.

Lesson 52
Infinitives and Infinitive Phrases

An infinitive is another verb form that may function as a noun. It may also function as an adjective or an adverb. An infinitive is formed from the word to followed by the base form of a verb. The word to is not a preposition when it is used immediately before a verb.

Jenny is always looking for a chance to read. (infinitive)
She goes to the library at least once a week. (not an infinitive; the word to is used as a preposition)

An infinitive used as a noun can be the subject of a sentence or the direct object of a verb.

To read is enjoyable. (subject) Jenny tries to read every day. (direct object)

An infinitive phrase is a group of words that includes an infinitive and other words that complete its meaning.

Jenny has decided to read all of Sue Ellen Bridgers’s books this summer.

Unit 9: Subject-Verb Agreement

Lesson 53
Making Subjects and Verbs Agree

If the subject of a sentence is singular, then the verb of the sentence must also be singular. If the subject is plural, then the verb must also be plural. When the subject and the verb are both singular or both plural, they are said to agree in number.

Mr. Lawrenz teaches art. (singular subject, singular verb)
Wade and Lee teach art. (plural subject, plural verb)
I walk to the store. (singular subject, singular verb)
She walks to the store. (singular subject, singular verb)
They walk to the store. (plural subject, plural verb)

Whether the irregular verbs be, do, and have are used as main verbs or helping verbs, they must agree with the subject.

The window is stuck. (singular subject, singular verb)
These windows do stick in humid weather. (plural subject, plural helping verb)
He has saved money. (singular subject, singular helping verb)

Exercise 1 Draw two lines under the correct form of the verb in parentheses.

15. Dolphins ___________ in water. (live)
16. Only two weeks ___________ in the semester. (remain)
Lesson 54
Locating the Subject

Making a subject and verb agree is easy when the verb directly follows the subject. However, sometimes a prepositional phrase comes between the subject and its verb.

The books on the table belong to Edwina. (The plural verb, belong, agrees with the plural subject, books.)

To help determine subject-verb agreement, say the sentence without the prepositional phrase.

The books belong to Edwina.

Inverted sentences are those in which the subject follows the verb. Some of these sentences begin with a prepositional phrase. Other inverted sentences begin with here or there. Do not mistake the object of a preposition or here and there for the subject.

In the ocean live animals of many species.
There is the road into town.
Here in the storeroom are the tapes you ordered.

Some interrogative sentences may have a helping verb before the subject. The subject is found between the helping verb and the main verb.

Does this store sell videotapes? (Store is the subject, sell is the main verb, and does is the helping verb.)

Exercise 1 Draw two lines under the correct form of the verb in parentheses. Write S in the blank if the subject and verb are singular. Write pl. if the subject and verb are plural.

Lesson 55
Collective Nouns and Other Special Subjects

A collective noun names a group. It has a singular meaning when the group acts as a unit. It has a plural meaning when showing that each member of the group acts as an individual. The meaning of the noun in the sentence determines whether the singular or plural form of the verb is needed. You can determine whether a collective noun takes a singular or plural verb by substituting the pronoun it or they.

The team wants to buy the coach a gift. (one group, singular)
The team agree to purchase their own jerseys. (individuals, plural)

Certain nouns, such as mathematics and mumps, end in -s but use a singular verb form. Nouns such as jeans and scissors also end in -s and take a plural verb, yet they are single objects.

The news is on the radio now. (singular)
These jeans are torn. (plural)

When the subject refers to an amount as a single unit, it is considered singular. When it refers to more than one unit, it is plural.

Two weeks seems like a long time to wait. (single unit, singular verb)
Two weeks have passed since you called. (several units, plural verb)

The name of a company, title of a book, movie, play, song, or work of art is a proper noun and should be treated as singular even if the subject within the title is plural.

The Flintstones is a television show that was made into a movie. (single title)

Exercise 1 Underline the simple subject of each sentence. In the blank, write S if the subject is singular and pl. if the subject is plural.

Lesson 56
Indefinite Pronouns as Subjects

An indefinite pronoun is a pronoun that does not refer to a specific person, place, or thing. Most indefinite pronouns are singular. Some are plural, and some can be either singular or plural. When an indefinite pronoun is the subject of a sentence, the verb must agree in number with the indefinite pronoun.

COMMON INDEFINITE PRONOUNS

Singular: another, anybody, anyone, anything, each, either, everybody, everyone, everything, much, neither, nobody, no one, nothing, one, somebody, someone, something
Plural: both, few, many, others, several
Either Singular or Plural: all, any, most, none, some

Nobody lives without air. (singular)
Many study the process of photosynthesis. (plural)

A prepositional phrase can follow the indefinite pronouns all, any, most, none, or some. The object of the preposition will determine whether the pronoun is singular or plural.

Some of the building is brick. (singular)
Some of the sunflowers are large. (plural)

Exercise 1 Draw two lines under the correct form of the verb in parentheses.

Lesson 57
Agreement with Compound Subjects

A compound subject contains two or more simple subjects that have the same verb. It requires a singular or plural verb, depending on how the parts of the subject are connected. When two or more simple subjects are joined by the coordinating conjunction and or by the correlative conjunction both...and, the verb is plural. Sometimes and is used to join two words that are part of a single unit or refer to a single person or thing. In this case, the subject is considered to be singular. When two or more subjects are joined by the coordinating conjunction or or nor, or the correlative conjunction either...or or neither...nor, the verb agrees with the subject that is closest to it.

Lakes, rivers, and streams have fish. (plural)

Both rivers and streams carry silt. (plural)

Our chief cook and bottle-washer wants to see you! (singular)

The printout or the disks contain the information. (plural; one singular and one plural subject; the verb agrees with the subject closest to it)

Either the disks or the printout contains the information. (singular; one plural and one singular subject; the verb agrees with the subject closest to it)

► Exercise 1 Draw two lines under the correct form of the verb in parentheses. In the blank, write S if the verb form is singular or pl. if it is plural.

Unit 10: Diagraming Sentences

Lesson 58
Diagraming Simple Subjects and Predicates

To diagram a sentence, draw a horizontal line with a vertical line going through it. Write the simple subject to the left of the vertical line and the simple predicate to the right of the line.

Diagramed below are only the simple subject and simple predicate of the four basic kinds of sentences. Regardless of the word order in the sentence, the location of the simple subject and simple predicate in a sentence diagram is always the same.

DECLARATIVE
People ride horses.

INTERROGATIVE
Do people ride horses?

IMPERATIVE
Ride the horse.

EXCLAMATORY
How those horses run!

Exercise 1 Diagram only the simple subject and simple predicate in each sentence.

1. Cally had spoken.
2. The old barn collapsed.
3. Buy that video.
4. Did you give it to her?
5. The dog damaged the flowers.
6. When did you wake him?

15. How the ice glitters!
16. Enter the contest.
17. I have prepared for the quiz.
18. He wrecked my bike!
19. Where is my CD?
20. Quartz is beautiful.
Lesson 59
Diagraming Direct and Indirect Objects and Predicate Words

Place the direct object to the right of the verb and next to a vertical line that does not extend below the horizontal line. Locate indirect objects on a horizontal line below and to the right of the verb, connected to the verb by a slanted line.

Do take a free sample.  Shana gave her brother a video.

(you)  Do take  sample  Shana  gave  video brother

Use a slanted line to separate a predicate noun or predicate adjective from the linking verb.

Kyle was sorry.  Priscilla does seem very friendly.

Kyle  was  sorry  Priscilla  does  seem  friendly

▶ Exercise 1  Diagram the subject, predicate, direct object, indirect object, and any predicate words in each sentence.

1. You look hungry.
2. Ruth thanked him.
3. I sent Susan the notes.
4. Henry overtook the other runners.

13. The band or orchestra moved the props and scenery.

14. The lumber companies possessed and harvested great forests.

15. He saw a quail and a wild turkey.
Lesson 63
Diagraming Compound Sentences

Diagram each clause of a compound sentence separately. Use a vertical dotted line to connect the verbs of each clause if the main clauses are joined by a semicolon.

Sparrows flitted among the trees; the cicadas buzzed.

If the main clauses are joined by a conjunction, place the conjunction on a solid horizontal line. Then connect the conjunction to the verb of each clause by vertical dotted lines.

The tractor moved the wagon, and they unloaded the hay.

Exercise 1 Diagram each sentence.

1. Carla investigated the problem, and she told me the result.
2. Rachel put the canvas on the sled, but she forgot the necessary rope.
3. Jane was acquainted with Teri, but she did not know Tiffany.

4. I like the black dress, but it is still too long.

5. Juan obtained the tickets, and he kept them until the game.

6. Jenny will tell the story; Dudley will play the music.

7. The sheep grazed the field, but the grass was very short.

8. The trees give shade on the street, and their leaves renew the air.

9. This frame costs more, but it is the perfect gift.

10. Isabel planned it, but her friends did it.

11. Ann will referee the game, and Barry will keep score.

12. Gum is prohibited here, but it is permitted outside.
Lesson 64
Diagraming Complex Sentences with Adjective or Adverb Clauses

To diagram an adjective clause, draw a dotted line between the relative pronoun that introduces the clause and the noun or pronoun it modifies. Relative pronouns are who, whom, whose, whoever, whomever, which, or that. Diagram the relative pronoun according to its function in its own clause.

Scientists who study dinosaurs are paleontologists.

To diagram an adverb clause, draw a dotted line between the verb in the adverb clause and the verb, adjective, or adverb it modifies. Write the subordinating conjunction on the line connecting the verb and the word it modifies.

After he consulted a specialist, he decided against surgery.

Exercise 1 Diagram each sentence.

1. The pen that writes best has blue ink.

11. After the cold weather arrived, the tomato plants wilted.

7. Willow trees grew where the water was sufficient.

12. It is Chinese food that they prefer for dinner.
Lesson 65
Diagraming Noun Clauses

Noun clauses can be subjects, direct objects, objects of prepositions, or predicate nouns. Diagram a noun clause by placing it on a “stilt” above the main clause.

Diagram the word introducing a noun clause according to its function in the clause. Occasionally the word that introduces the noun clause, such as that, is not truly part of either the noun clause or the main clause. Write such a word on its own line above the clause and connect it with a dotted line.

Whatever happens will delight you. I heard that you won the game.

They respect what I achieved.

Exercise 1 Diagram each sentence.

1. Mr. Crosby explained what I am doing wrong.

9. Approaching the car, a skunk gave an unmistakable scent.

10. Enduring nature’s harshness together, the campers felt kinship with the animals.
Lesson 67
Diagramming Infinitives

Place an infinitive or infinitive phrase that is used as a noun on a “stilt” positioned according to its role in the sentence. Then, diagram it as you would a prepositional phrase except that its slanted line should extend below the baseline.

The task of a student is to study hard.

Diagram an infinitive or infinitive phrase that is used as either an adjective or an adverb as you would a prepositional phrase, below the word it modifies, with its slanted line extending below the baseline.

A book to read is *The Call of the Wild.

Exercise 1 Diagram each sentence.

1. I need to wash my dog.
